

Prince George holds William's hand as he arrives for first day of school

(Picture: Richard Pohle/The Times/PA Wire)

On his first day at school Prince George Cambridge looked smartly dressed in his school uniform. He wore a shirt, navy pullover, short trousers and black shoes.

He walked nervously holding his father's hand.

The four-year-old was with Prince William as he walked into Thomas's Battersea School in south London. His mother Kate was unable to come because she had morning sickness.

He arrived at 8.45am and shook hands with Helen Haslem, head of the lower school. His father held his school bag ready for his first day.

The young prince and his classmates will learn a range of subjects and activities from ballet and art to drama, French, music and physical education.

Adapted from: <http://metro.co.uk/2017/09/07/prince-george-holds-williams-hand-as-he-arrives-for-first-day-of-school-6909390/>

1. Read the text and answer the questions.

a) What did George wear?

b) What time did he arrive?

c) What will he learn?

2. Now, your turn. Work with your classmates and complete the article about your first week at college.

In the first week at _____ students wore _____, _____, _____ and _____.

They all felt _____ and _____.

On the first day, they arrived at _____ and met their teacher _____.

The students will learn about _____, _____, _____ and _____.

The students need to remember about _____, _____, _____ and _____.